

University of Divinity researchers and HDR students are invited to a

Publication Workshop and Philosophy Seminar

presented in association with the CTC/UD Philosophy discipline graduate seminar series.

Friday 30 November 2018

Catholic Theological College
278 Victoria Parade, East Melbourne

10:00–11:30am

Science, Theism, and a Contemporary Teleological Argument for the Existence of God

This seminar explores how some basic findings of modern physics and some contemporary work in analytic philosophy of religion can be brought together in the construction of an interesting and accessible teleological argument for the existence of God.

11:30am–4:00pm

(A light lunch and beverages are provided.)

Get Published!

A publication workshop especially for HDR students and recent doctoral graduates, covering:

- writing for academic journals
- publishing out of your doctorate
- developing article concept maps and outlines
- co-authorship—finding collaborators and making a writing team work.

Dr Graeme McLean is Senior Lecturer and Philosophy Coordinator in the School of Humanities and Social Sciences at Charles Sturt University in Wagga Wagga. He is a graduate of Monash and Oxford universities, and from 1990 to 2004 he was a member of the Department of Philosophy of the University of the Witwatersrand in Johannesburg, South Africa. He teaches especially in Epistemology, Philosophy of Religion, and Applied Ethics. He has a longstanding interest in the philosophical connections between science and Christianity.

Professor Mark Morrison is Associate Dean, Research, in the Faculty of Business, Justice and Behavioural Sciences at Charles Sturt University in Bathurst. In recent years, his research has been funded by the Australian Research Council (Discovery and Linkage Grants), Indigenous Business Australia, NSW Environmental Trust, Land and Water Australia, Country Energy, Trade & Investment NSW and CareWest. He regularly runs workshops on academic publishing.

Attendees are welcome to attend one or both sessions.

Enquiries and RSVPs to Chris Mulherin (Chris.Mulherin@ctc.edu.au) indicating which sessions you will attend and whether you will require lunch.