

UNIVERSITY OF DIVINITY

GRADUATION

7.30pm, Friday 27th March 2020

MELBOURNE

TONIGHT, THE UNIVERSITY GATHERS AS AN ONLINE COMMUNITY to witness the graduation of some 346 students.

We honour your academic achievements in theology, philosophy, counselling, education, and ministry.

On behalf of the Council of the University of Divinity, I acknowledge the sacrifice that has been made by each student graduating tonight due to the cancellation of the public graduation ceremony. This decision was made in light of the coronavirus pandemic and the need to take all possible steps to protect the health and safety of the University's members and the general public.

I thank all who join the Vice-Chancellor and me online tonight in support of our graduands, including family, friends, colleagues, members of the University Council and the staff of its Colleges. Your support is invaluable to our graduands and to the University as together we address the issues of our contemporary world through critical engagement with Christian theological traditions.

At this ceremony, each of you becomes a member of the alumni community of the University of Divinity. Our alumni are found in every corner of the globe, serving churches and communities in extraordinary ways. As you join them, I hope that you will draw on your attributes as a graduate of the University, as you continue to learn, articulate, communicate, engage and serve.

DOCTOR OF PHILOSOPHY

Kathleen Alleaume Ross

Pilgrim Theological College

Thesis: Good Priest, Virtuous Woman: Thérèse of Lisieux and Non-Heroic Sanctity in Nineteenth and Early Twentieth-Century French Literature

Supervisors: Associate Professor Katharine Massam and +Dr Janette Gray

This thesis argues that the person of Saint Thérèse of Lisieux (1873–1897) is connected to the way in which non-heroic sanctity is portrayed in the literary tropes of the Good Priest and Virtuous Woman of nineteenth and early twentieth-century French literature.

Daryl James Barclay

Thesis: The Multivalent Moment in Jean-Pierre de Caussade's Labandon à la Providence divine and Virginia Woolf's Mrs. Dalloway

Supervisors: The Reverend Professor Austin Cooper and the Reverend Professor Gerald O'Collins

This thesis analyses and compares a total of 200 references to the word moment in Jean-Pierre de Caussade's 1861 spiritual treatise, Labandon à la Providence divine, and Virginia Woolf's 1925 novel Mrs. Dalloway. Significant conceptual overlap was established between the texts in the categories of transcendence, epiphanies, eternity and self-abandonment.

University Medal, 2020

Citation: Dr Daryl James Barclay has completed a doctoral thesis of exceptional quality which makes an original contribution to both literary and theological studies. Through a well-executed methodology, his thesis, The Multivalent Moment in Jean-Pierre de Caussade's Labandon à la Providence divine and Virginia Woolf's Mrs. Dalloway, weaves together complex ideas which culminate in a scholarly and multi-disciplined development of the presenting concept of 'moment'. Dr Barclay has excelled in his engagement with current and past scholarship, and mastery of the French language, with his dissertation demonstrating a high level of academic acumen.

Andrew Stuart Calder

Pilgrim Theological College

Thesis: Adults with intellectual disability and their spirituality: Voices to be heard by faith communities and the disability services sector in Victoria, Australia

Supervisors: The Reverend Dr Alan Niven and Professor Emeritus Trevor Parmenter

This research, the first of its kind in Australia, interviewed 14 adults with intellectual disability, seeking their experience and meaning of spirituality. What did they say is important for them? Outcomes included development of new policy statements with recommended responses by faith communities and Australia's National Disability Insurance Scheme (NDIS).

Christy Maree Capper

Trinity College Theological School

Thesis: The Theological Imperative to Authenticity

Supervisors: The Reverend Professor Mark Lindsay and the Right Reverend Dr Stephen Platten

This thesis explores the concept of authenticity and argues that authentic selfhood is a theological imperative. It examines the anthropology of John Macquarrie as a basis for a theological understanding of authentic selfhood before providing and defending a theological definition of authentic selfhood as “[the] bringing of one’s unique, God-inspired self to life.”

Barbara Constance Deutschmann

Whitley College

Thesis: One Becomes Two: The Gender Anthropology of the Eden Narrative and its Reception Journey

Supervisors: Professor Mark Brett and the Reverend Dr Merryl Blair

This thesis is a literary study of the female-male pair in the non-P creation narrative (Gen 2:4a–3:24). It develops the notion that the human partnership of the Eden narrative foreshadows the cooperative work of diverse humanity in the task of serving and keeping the earth.

David Janssen

Whitley College

Thesis: Divine and Roman Warriors: The Roman Imperial Cuirass in 1 Thessalonians 5:1–10

Supervisors: Associate Professor Keith Dyer and Dr Rosemary Canavan

This thesis adopts Socio-Rhetorical Interpretation to examine Paul’s use of armour language in 1 Thessalonians 5:8. Specific consideration is given to the blending of imagery from Roman Imperial cuirass statue types and the Divine Warrior motif. Rather than emphasising eschatological alertness, the merging of these figures informs the identity of the ekklesia in Thessalonica.

Jacob Joseph

Pilgrim Theological College

Thesis: The Christ Who Embraces: An Orthodox Theology of Margins in India

Supervisors: The Reverend Associate Professor John Flett and the Reverend Dr Duncan Reid

This thesis develops a Christological response to Orthodox Christian mission in the context of caste dynamics among St. Thomas/Syrian/Orthodox Christians in India. In the context of Dalit social and theological concerns, it intends to offer a casteless Orthodox theology of mission that envisions a reconciling mission through a miaphysite Christological embrace or kiss of peace.

University Medal, 2020

Citation: Dr Jacob Joseph has completed a doctoral thesis of exceptional quality which has significance for Indian and global theology into the future. His thesis, The Christ who Embraces: An Orthodox Theology of Margins in India, engages in both Dalit and Orthodox theology, developing a constructive rereading of accepted concepts and practices. The thesis challenges the existing structures of knowledge, especially regarding a multicultural, yet deeply stratified, Indian society. Dr Joseph’s reading is passionate and ingenious, presenting audacious arguments with conceptual clarity and accuracy.

Richarda Margaretha Madden

Thesis: Living Between: Exploring a Framework of Spirituality for Students and Teachers in Catholic Schools

Supervisors: The Reverend Dr Kevin Lenehan and Dr Didier Pollefeyt

This thesis proposes a comprehensive, relatable, theological heuristic for Christian spirituality grounded in four paradigms of human experiencing: Vulnerability, Responsibility, Commitment and Fulfilment. This framework of spirituality provides a dialogical and theoretical lens through which to come to theological, pedagogical and strategic recommendations around religious education in Australian Catholic schools.

Cathryn Elizabeth McKinney

Pilgrim Theological College

Thesis: Leading Saturday Lives: the Experience of Disappointment as an Authentic Relational Engagement

Supervisors: Professor Maryanne Confoy and the Reverend Professor Stephen Burns

This thesis correlates the particular emotional experience of being disappointed with a “Holy Saturday” existence and I argue that the most disappointing encounters in life can be understood as central to an authentic understanding of a Christian theology – from Mary as bereaved mother to the presence of the absence of God in the disappointment of Holy Saturday. “Leading Saturday Lives” is a personal theological response to the living experience of disappointment.

Cecilia Tan

Yarra Theological Union

Thesis: The Implications of Authentic Authority for Contemporary Pastoral Leadership: An Application of Bernard Lonergan’s Dialectic of Authority

Supervisors: Dr Kathleen Williams and Dr Alan Wade

This dissertation is a systematic study into authentic authority as informed by Bernard Lonergan’s cognitional theory of intentional consciousness and his method in theology.

Richard John Grant Wilson

Trinity College Theological School

Thesis: A new body and a new voice: hybrid structure and practice in an evolving form of secular public engagement for the Anglican Church of Australia

Supervisors: The Reverend Associate Professor John Flett and the Reverend Dr Alan Niven

While the Anglican Church has a limited influence on contemporary public policy formation, this research demonstrated that a small number of church organisations have established deep public engagement with the economics, finance and business sector. These organisations exhibit working practices and processes and alternative organisational structures and cultures that are fundamental to successful public engagement.

DOCTOR OF THEOLOGY

Christopher James Cotter

Pilgrim Theological College

Thesis: A Pastoral Theological Approach to Restorative Practices in the Australian Catholic School Context

Supervisors: Professor Maryanne Confoy and Dr Kathleen Williams

Restorative practices are powerful social-disciplinary processes used in Australian Catholic schools. Interpreted through the eyes of Christ, the restorative conference is an inclusive ritual in which shame and victimhood are transformed. This is an experience of the resurrection; it transforms individuals, relationships and communities. It is hope for the world.

Normandy Dujunco

Yarra Theological Union

Thesis: Inculturated Faith Formation of New Teachers through Narrative Theology

Supervisors: The Reverend Associate Professor Michael Kelly and Dr Edmund Chia

This thesis proposes a framework that will allow Lasallian Schools in the Philippines to provide effective and inculturated faith formation for newly hired teachers. It suggests that the pattern of the ‘Hero’s Journey’ as proposed by the American Literature Professor, Joseph Campbell is a suitable foundation for such an endeavour.
